Message of Support from the Mayor of London Ken Livingstone, for the Sanatan Bengali Association (North London)

It gives me great pleasure to send my best wishes to the Sanatan Bengali Association (North London) for their Durga Puja celebration this year. Now in their sixth year, the Sanatan Bengali Association Durga Puja celebrations have become a well established and much loved event in the Hindu calendar.

London's Hindu community makes a substantial contribution to London's economy, its culture and diversity. The celebration of festival like Durga Puja, showcase the positive and valuable contribution this diversity brings to our city.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Sanatan Bengali Association for their hard work in organising the celebrations and also their charitable work over the last year, which have helped those that were affected by the Tsunami, particularly in the area of PortBlair.

I hope all those attending have an enjoyable festival celebration.
